This workshop will be the perfect place for you to expand your photographic skills, build on what you have learned and venture into the world of storytelling and flash.

Topics We Will Cover:

Storytelling
Story Development
Editing Your Work
Metering, Exposure, Reading Light

Locations We Will Visit:

Bucharest, Sibiu, Brasov, Transylvania

These locations are tentative and may change depending on weather and spontaneous photographic opportunities.

About Us

Joe McNally:

Joe McNally is an internationally acclaimed, award-winning photographer whose prolific career includes assignments in 70 countries. McNally won the first Alfred Eisenstaedt Award for Journalistic Impact for a LIFE coverage titled, "The Panorama of War." He has been honored numerous times by Communication Arts, PDN, Graphis, American Photo, POY, and The World Press Photo Foundation. A contributor to National Geographic magazine for more than two decades, Joe has published numerous cover stories, including "The Future of Flying" (December 2003). His assignments have taken him from the heart of India's Diwali celebrations to the deserts of the Middle East to China's Great Wall. He regularly writes a popular, occasionally irreverent blog (joemcnally.com/blog) about the travails, tribulations, oddities and high moments of being a photographer. Liza Politi:

Liza's first documentary feature, "By The People" (2006) was broadcast on PBS and won a prestigious HUGO award. Currently shooting "Best Seat in the House," a documentary focusing on Rock-star drummers, Liza is also in post-production on a new full-length feature, "Suck It Up Buttercup." For the famed Culture Project, Liza produced "Impact On The Gulf", a multimedia action-oriented human rights festival which debuted in

New York City; and in the aftermath of Hurricane Katrina, her USO-style tour, Broadway on the Bayou received national attention and was featured on MSNBC. Liza is now working with National Geographic and their legendary photographers, producing expeditions and photography workshops all over the world. Comfortable on both sides of the camera, she is also an award-winning actor and teacher. www.fancygirlstreetboy.com
